WANT TO EXPLORE EVEN MORE OF WEST TENNESSEE?

Turn to pages 8-9 to learn more about the "Discover Tennessee Trails & Byways" that run through this region.

Then look us up on facebook.com/tnvacation to tell us about your favorite spots throughout the state.
Find a beat, escape in nature or uncover history in West Tennessee.

Memphis is a city in constant motion, not unlike the mighty Mississippi anchoring Tennessee’s western border and the swinging hips of hometown icon Elvis Presley. There’s a fast, fluid pace from Beale Street’s clubs to South Main’s galleries and eateries; a more languid flow of life in the shopping-centric east side and a constant stream of devotees at Graceland. The birthplace of modern music affords a chance unlike any other to become immersed in American music, from the strains of soul at Stax Museum of American Soul to the rock beat at Sun Studio and the rhythm of blues on Beale Street. In Jackson, learn about the origins of another early style of rock and roll music at the Rock-A-Billy Hall of Fame & Museum.

West Tennessee is full of history and heritage. You can tour the state’s largest collection of Antebellum homes in La Grange and relive Civil War battles at Fort Pillow State Park and Shiloh National Military Park, site of one of the Civil War’s deadliest battles. You can trace the roots of Pulitzer Prize-winning author Alex Haley at his boyhood home in Henning. Satisfy your Southern food cravings at Brooks Shaw’s Old Country Store at the railroad-era Casey Jones Village in Jackson, or taste farm-fresh treats at roadside stands in Ripley, where the tomatoes are legendary. It is also where one can discover the charms of small towns like Dyersburg, Martin and Union City.

World leaders and school children alike find inspiration at the National Civil Rights Museum in Memphis, which sits on the site of the Lorraine Motel where Martin Luther King Jr. was assassinated. Animal lovers get lost for hours among the pandas, grizzlies and polar bears at the Memphis Zoo. Antiques hunters will find treasures around the charming town squares of Collierville, Bolivar and Covington; anglers can cast a line at Pickwick Landing State Park, at Reelfoot Lake or at Paris Landing on the Tennessee River.

Food and music festivals bring revelry to West Tennessee year-round, from Memphis’ World Championship BBQ Festival and Beale Street Music Festival in May, to the Doodle Soup Festival in Bradford in September and the Bluegrass Festival in Savannah each June.

Whether it’s the beat of Beale Street, the lessons of history or the call of nature, West Tennessee is full of the rhythms that move you.
